MOISSANT IN HARD LUCK BALLINGER CONTRACT

Made Effort Today to Finish His Flight to London, But Had to Come to Earth.

(Herald Special.) London, Aug. 22.—Further misfortune attended Moissant's flight from Paris to London today. In company with Mechanician Fieux, Moissant ascended at Upchurch at 4:29 this morning in the teeth of a forty mile gale. He flew for nearly an hour in a zig-zag course and alighted at Seven Oaks no nearer London than when the start was made. The descent was made at terrific speed, landing in a plowed field, breaking the rudder and propeller wire. The accident is more serious than that of last week. Moissant has wired for repairers to come and fix the machine, and expects to continue his flight tomorrow.

Was Worth $5,400,000 in Commissions. Had Contracts With Four Thousand Individuals.

(Herald Special.) Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 22.—Webster Ballinger, a Washington attorney, today told the Gore investigating committee that he held contracts which would have netted him $5,400,000 in commissions. He said he held contracts with about four thousand individuals claiming citizenship in the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations. Ballinger said he estimated a citizenship right worth from $4000 to $5000 and his fee was based on forty per cent. Hamon, on the stand, told the committee today that he understood Gore had made some one hundred and seventy-two changes in the printed testimony.

Fig Growers Having Trouble.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 22.—Hundreds of tons of figs are going to waste in Southwest Texas because preserving plants cannot take care of them. The fig crop has been unusually good this year and moreover the acreage of orchards has been added to considerably. Owing to the fact that the fruit cannot be transported in its raw state any great distance, growers depend entirely on the local market and the preserving plants. While the latter have increased their capacity during the last two years by at least 200 per cent, they have been unable this season to take up more than about three-fifths of the crop.

One of the largest fig packeries in this country will be erected on the Alameda property during the coming year and a number of others will be needed in other parts of Southwest Texas. The fig raised principally in these parts is the Magnolia or red fig, though the blue fig is also grown. Certain varieties of the former provide two crops a year, the first one reaching the market about June and the second about the end of September.

Weekly Weather Forecast.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Chilly weather is on its way, according to the general forecast for the coming week, issued by Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau. The chilly wave will begin its sweep across the country the middle of the week, starting from the northwestern states and reaching the Atlantic coast by Friday and Saturday. Its appearance will be rendered the more disagreeable by reason of the fact that it will be preceded by moderately warm weather, so that the drop in temperature will be the more severely felt. As a result of the sudden change there will be almost continuous showers in the southeastern states. During last week temperatures slightly below the normal ruled throughout the country, and there were light frosts in the extreme northwest.

TEXAS NEWS NOTES.

Dr. Brumby Will Resign.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 21.—Governor Campbell has not yet intimated whom he will appoint to succeed Dr. Wm. Brumby as state health officer and president of the state board of health. Dr. Brumby has not yet tendered his formal resignation, but will do so within the next few days, probably tomorrow. Dr. Brumby will become medical director for the Equitable Life Insurance company of San Antonio.
